- The band will not provide lighting for the performance area; the band can work with whatever lighting the venue possesses.
- If venue-owned sound equipment is required, the band will provide direct outputs from amplifiers to the venue-owned equipment. The band will not be responsible for operating the venue-owned sound equipment.
- Unless a “no tip jar” agreement is pre-arranged, the venue will provide a small area that is easily accessible to patrons for the tip jar.
- The band agrees to leave the venue’s performance area in exact or better condition than existed before the performance.
